stock law

A petition calling for an end to the semi-open range law status of Hancock County is meeting with good reception, according to its originator Oscar Peterson of Necaise Cross-

Peterson estimated Monday that 350-400 voters had already digned and more had expressed their intent of so doing. "We have copies of the petition at I.T. Lee's Grocery in Lectown, Melva's Place in Kiln and at Peterson's Grocery at Necaise," he said. Citing the increasing highway accident rate as his principal reason for starting the petittion Peterson said he hoped to present the signed version to the supervisors on the first Monday in October.

Addresses to the board of supervisors, the petition reads, We me undersigned qualified electors of Hancock County, living outside of the municipalities, do hereby request that the board of Supervisors of Hancock County call an election to determine whether or

The board of supervisors mests at 9 a.m. teday-the business in quick order Monday. deadline-to fix the county millage for the coming year. While no change is indicated in the total figure, at least two shifts were under consideration earlier this week. Somehow the supervisors want to provide relief for the payper fund which had a balance of $6,454 at the end of last month. Talk has been in terms of lifting one-half mill from either the county school or the hospital fund. Neither the county school board nor the hospital board had submitted a budget for fiscal 1966-67 to the supervisors Monday or made any formal request for funds and supervicoro peemed to lean more to taking .5 mill from schools as their best way of helping the pauper fund. With the county-wide election coming up next year, there seems little likelibood that there will be any increase in the total amount.

They accepted a low bid of $3,707,80 from Pearson Motor Co. of Picayung for a 2-ton gradar with a 125 horse power engine and grade sloping attachment for Beat 2. This is be paid for on delivery. One bid was received on three 2-way radios for the sheriff's department but it later developed another had come in on time but was not in the supervisors' hands. The matter is to be desermined finally today.

Supervisors held for study a $2,469.60 bill from Coast Lawn and Paving Service of Ocean Springs, forwarded by Superintendent Chester Blolock of Hancock North Central School, for hot mix paving of two bashetball, tennis courts and a washing area for busses. R.G. Hubbard, board president, questioned whether supervisors could spend their road and bridge fund money for school improvements, and in such an amount without a bid, His colleagues recalled having agreed some time ago to provide surfacing for this improvement at North Central. Petitions are now being circulated in Hancock County to call on election to place Hancock under the state's general cattle law. If sufficient Cesons sign the petitions, and a majority vote worably, it would mean we have the same law as vast majority of the state and it would also om an end to the open range lass in the county. The fact that Hancock County v ted to not comwith the state law, somewhat like the proillon law vote, has made our rocds hazardous in extreme. It has also resulted in the highway death of man, cattle, other livestock, and vehicle ss. We certainly hope the petitions detenough gnatures and that there is a favorable vote it he polls.

For the time being, in an effort to talk peaceably of the pending Civil Rights Act of 1966, suppose we our Title IV off to one side. This is the section that deals with 'open housing." Even in its watered-down form, the section arouses intense emotions. Suppose it were not in the bill: What then?

Even stripped of its housing provisions, this mishegotten bill lives up to everything North Carolina's Senator Sam Ervin said of it a few days ago. The two pections that deal with jury selection, and a third section that deals with heaven-knows-what, "must be counted among the sloppiest, vaguest, most ill-conveived and dangerous provisions ever to be ceriously considered by the Senate. And Ervin added that he was "well aware of the many sloppy, vague, and ill-considered measures we have passed throughout Ervin is a Southerner, of course, but he is far removed from the old Dixiecrat breed. He is a former judge. He represents the most liberal of the Southern States In such undertakings as his "bill of rights for Federal employes," he often is allied with some of the leading liberals of the Senate. When he attacks the pending civil rights bill, he is not speaking as a "racist," but as one of the ablect lawyers in the upper chamber.

The tear-gas fog of this long hot summer has obscured the pending bill. If one may judge from the incoherencies of the House debate, few men have bothered to study it line by line. Over most of the country, editorial comment has been so concentrated on the housing title that other provisions of profound importance have been almost overlooked. They merit prayerful thought.

Title I i o intended to prevent discrimination in the selection of juries in federal courts. Title II has the same purpose for State courts. The purpose is fine. I the most chauvi sale Southerner, waving his Confederate flag, can condone the systematic exclusion of l'eg les that in times past has subverted the sound principle of trial by jury in Southern States.

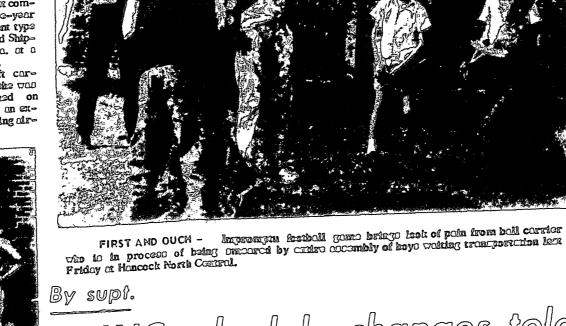

Yet rotional men, inquiring into the real need for drastic federal legislation in this field, may wish to consider the extent of the evil today. They would find, one sumbits, that the evil is largely a thing of the past. From one end of the South to the other, procecutors are bending over backwards to ake certain that the jury selection process nbruces a fair sample of Negro residents. The procecutors may not be motivated by purest idealism. They may be motivated, rather, by the certain knowledge that a conviction obtained by tedious labor will be swiftly overthrown if the jury is constitutionally defective.

Housing slump

Secretary of the Treasury Fowler gave a recent report to the Cabinet on the housing olump. He warned behind closed doors that housing construction will continue to decline the rest of this year but predicted it would pick up in 1967. He is counting upon two bills the administration is pushing on Capital Hill. One provides an extra $3 billion in money by authorizing the Federal National Mortgage Assn., to buy more gages from private lenders. This would free the lenders to loan more money for housing. The other bill limits the interest that commercial banks can pay on time deposits. This is a technical measure which should stop the drain on savings and loan associations, thereby freeing them to finance more homeo. Fowler assured the Cabinet that there measures should go a long way toward ending the housing freeze.

Just a small cample of its effectiveness was proved in Friday and Saturday's squally weather when huge white capa bounded across the road in places as yet incomplete, causing a number of fresh sunken opots in the wavy pavement.

Satety advantages, such as removing underwater hazards like broken pilings, brush. sunken objects and other debris. are a thing of the past, and while swimming will be better off clean beaches with a solidbase. deep water will present no hazard. Fill was obtained at the clocest point from 1600 feet from shore, and up to 25001 feet in most spots. Although the actual beach is in some places roughly 50 feet wide, the slops to natural bottom varies from 216 feet, near the western extremity to 240 when it nears Bay St. Louis.

All in all, the million yards sand, 9,000 feet of pipe, 26,000 hulkhead footage and 400 fest of seawall repair, will afford a certain feeling of protection for those heretofore left to the mercy of nature's fury, Ocoring on their first play from a crimmage, fullback Rene Guad running 45 yards for the touch-down.

Maybe it was a shift in the lineup, maybe it was an overwhelming desire to vindicate their first loss last Friday, or maybe it was just plain school

But the consensus of the fan's opinion was that Bay High head football mentor, Lance Lumplan, must have given the Tigers a shot of adrenalin before they came snarling onto the field Monday night and roared over the Pass Christian Pirates. 32-0. on a slippery liger gridiron. h was Bay High's first home game of the season and had been postponed from Friday night because of rain and wet grounds. In the season's opener the previous Friday the Tigers never got off the ground and lost to Stone, 20-0.

Assistant coaches Luke Caruso and Wi 'p' Seymour said it was an verall team effort, both offensive and defensive, that J. the trick. lumplen had made some changes in the line p during practice drins last week moving Alex Romanoff from guard to full back, Dick Ladner from center to guard and Freddie Breland from quart rback to halfback while Don Estaps held down the quarterback spot

You've got to hand it to those Valena C. Jones Tigers.

Everyone who saw the lads brush off Locombe, La., 46-6, in the season's opener, a nonconference game, came away convinced Jones has the best high school football team in thic area and should wind up on top of the South Mississippi Athletic Conference.

Jones scored six touchdowns and missed only one point-after, all extra points being made on running or passing plays. But what the records don't show is that they scored three other td-s t h a t were called back because of penalties. Once, both teams were penalized, once Jones was gulky of illegal procedure and once a Tiger was in motion when he shouldn't have been.

Speedy-all-conference halfbook James Peters turned in a oparkling performance, ocor-ing three of the dix touchdowns, while equally fast Troy Haynes got two and Larry Peters one. Haynes and Peters are all-con-(Cont. on Page 8-B.)

just as if to offer a grim reminder, sides darkened, wind rained rain beat a creaty tottoo, and heavy breakers, on a fact fricting tide, hammered the escuali on Betay's first anniversary last Friday. So similar were conditions to those of early in that day just one year ago, it gave one an uncomfortable, almost supernatural feeling of reliving that fateful day. That made even incre weird by the fact that weather forecomers predicted mild easterly winds, 8-16 mph, and only a ten percent possibility of showers!

Back to business

So much for the requiem, let's get along to more cheerful topics. What can be more cheerful than news of a new arrival. Polly Graham is the proudest proxy-grandma around. Her aloce Diedre Dee, and hurband, Ray Barnen, their firm, a daugiver to be christened—cops, torgot to ask that quection, weighing in at six pounds, ten ounces when she was born Friday, Sept. 2. at Gulffort Memorial Hospital. Dee to best known to horseback riding fens as proprietor of Circle D Stables.

Bette Hill was much thrilled when fellow Pink Ladies of Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary presented her with a citation in recognition of the many hours she donated working in the hospital. Bette leaves Sept. 21, for her former home in Romer, Wis, where she will be reunited with her husband, Melvin D. Ireland. Bette says she hates to leave the coast, her son Bill, his wife, Karen, and granddaughters, Judi, Kim and Mary, and the many friends she's made in her 18 years in the area, 15 of which were spent in Bay St. Louis, adding, though that it will be good to return to her old home again.

very young children to ruce to and from echool on bicycles. . with the edded traffic flow and current street conditions, it's entirely too dangerous. And when just walking, few first, second or even third and fourth greders, have enough judgment to be allowed to cross screens without supervision of an adult or much older child.

Late notes

Jack Kay is on a 'but Ma, I'd rather do it myself kick... and he's most efficiently preparing cousine at his Broadview Restaurant.

We're sending get well wishes to Gloria Reinike. . . we realize that it's husband, Red, who suffered a fractured ankle, but as we've just been through the hospizalized husband routine, she's the one who has our heartfelt sympathy. Sarah (Mrs. John) Munch has become a 'career girl' now that daughter Linda is in her third year in medical technology at Loyola. Sarah is working for Wembley Tie Company in the Crescent City, but returns to Waveland each weekend.

Rev. Bertrand Eckert was off again Monday getting ready to make another foreign cruise, He brought our better (?) half the lovliest key chain we've ever seen. It is a large gold coin with profiles of Pope Paul and Pope John on one side and St. Christopher on the other and was blessed by Pope Paul when the Rev. Eckert was in the

But it's a lot of fun and metres for a lot of convercetion to let's give it a try.

Southern Mississippi is an up-and-coming college with pleaty emphasis on sports. They are heavy favorited to waip Louisiana Tech but in view of pact names I con't see too much of a point spreed although they are playing a Hantlechurg. Southern, 13-0.

ference fullback and line backer respectively.

The game was only a few minutes old when quarterback Robert Williams got off a 17vard screen pass to Haynes. who eluded five would-be tacklers, for Jones' first six-pointer. Joseph Lemay ran for the extra point.

Later in the same period Peters sprinted 35 yards around left end and Haynes went through tackle for the extra point. At the end of the quarter it was 13-0, Jones.

Haynes opened the second stanza with a 32-yard run off guard for the third tally and Gerald Williams got the PAT on a pass from quarterback Robert Williams.

Then with two minutes to go in the half and Lacombe passing desnerately. Peters intercepted an aerial and sprinted 57 yards to pay dirt. Milton Hargett ran the extra point.

The Tigers lost no time in the third quarter and after only a few plays Peters took a hand off from Williams and sprinted 56 yards for a touchdown with Lacombe's entire secondary chasing him at a respectful distance. The extra was by Larry Peters on apass from Williams.

Jones scored again in the third when James Peters went around left end for 15 yards. The conversion failed.

Defensive stors were Preston Ladner, Edward Whavers,

4-H WEEK

With precent enrollment of about 35,000 boys and girls in 1,947 4-H clubs, special local. state and national programs are being prepared to tell their story during National 4-H Week, Sept. 24 through Oct. 1.

Albert Parker, Henry and Lonnie Jordan and Kurt Fairconnetue. Offensively it was center Ronald Atlow, guards Randall Mitchel and Albert Lee, and tackle Gleonard Pruitt.

Leading ball carrier was James Peters with 187 yards in nine tries. Troy Haynes got 86 in six and Joseph Lemay 44 in five.

Jones gained a total of 466 yards while holding Lacombe to 135, most of which was gained on kick-off and punt returns.

Jones plays its first conference game of the season at 7:30 p. m. Friday against Lucedale in Tiger Stadium.
